DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/6/2009 has been entered.

Status of the Claims

Claims 1-4 and 21 have been cancelled, claims 5, 8, 12, and 16 have been amended with the terminology changes, which do not change the scope of claims, and claims 5-20, 22-29 are pending in application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Yoshimichi Hino et al (EP 1359230, thereafter EP'230).

EP'230 is applied to the claim 18 for the same reason as stated in the previous rejections dated 12/13/2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-17, 19-20, and 22-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Yoshimichi Hino et al (EP 1359230, thereafter EP'230).

EP'230 is applied to the claims 5-17, 19-20, and 22-29 for the same reason as stated in the previous rejections dated 12/13/2007 and 7/7/2008.

The amendments to claims 5, 8, 12, and 16 are editorial revisions and do not change the scope of the claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 11/7/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In the Applicants' arguments/remarks marked 11/7/2008, the applicants argue: the Applicants' presently claimed invention represents a patentable improvement over Hino et al (EP'230) because:

A) There is no description of the traveling speed in the Equation (1) of Hino et al (EP'230);

B) Hino et al (EP'230) does not disclose a parameter temperature in their Equation (1); and

C) In Equation (1) of Hino et al (EP'230), both the shortest heating time and the minimum consumption rate of electric power are not expressed.

In response,

Regarding the arguments A)-C), EP'230 clearly teaches controlling the travel speed according to the dimension of object, induction power, the number of heating cycles and target heating temperature (Table 1, and Page 3, paragraph [0010] to page 4, paragraph [0023], and equation (1) of EP'230). EP'230 clearly teaches that the target temperature and the travel speed are basic parameters for the heating process (Paragraphs [0012]-[0013] of EP'230). These parameters are result-effective variables in term of the heating conditions. As discussed in the rejections for the instant claims mailed on 11/28/2007 and 8/28/2008, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to have optimized the parameters for controlling the heating process since EP'230 discloses the similar method as claimed in the instant claims. MPEP 2144.05 II.

Conclusion

This is a RCE of applicant's earlier Application No. 10/524128. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
